

VANQUISH TOOLS and HINTS

The below provides a very brief overview and outlines information on what coaches/admin roles can access, log and monitor through Vanquish within the PC group;

- Access to player accounts ONLY for those within your PC group i.e. viewing Profile, schedule, reports, fitness information etc.
- Players can only view their own information plus contact details for you as coaches i.e. only mobile and email (address will not be provided for players view).
- Ability to message players, coaches within your PC and also PC Coaches external to your PC.
- Players can be added into their individual Raw, Developing and Emerging groups. N.B No further groupings can currently be catered for due to reporting.
 - The above 3 groups will be set up (via BADMINTON England) to your PC once logged onto the system so you can then add players to their individual squads for emailing and logging purposes.
- If you are a PC Head Coach or Admin/Support Staff (and therefore assigned as such in Vanquish) you will have access to the Admin section within the site. Further information is provided below (Within the User Manager tab) on what you can do within this section.

What can I log?

All coaches and the admin support role will be able to log/add the following via the 'Add Admin Log Entry' – 'Coach Logs' button found in Schedule;

- Training sessions – add into players schedules details regarding upcoming training i.e. weekly regular sessions, camps etc. these can be quickly added to players schedules by adding into selected group schedules. Location, times and dates.
- Upcoming tournaments – these can be added into either an individual player's schedule/ by squad or by PC through completion of just one log as per above.
- Progression logs – players need to be logged as to when they joined the squad/s they have belonged to since being in the PC via this very short log. These can be backdated. The information from this progression log (also included within the Player Profile log), will be used to calculate progression stats for your PC so it is important this information is logged at some point for your players.
- Player Profile forms – please complete all sections of the form. These will then be used to produce reports for each individual player and also for your PC.
